R.O.T.C. ACCEPTS CHALLENGES FOR RIFLE MATCHES

UNIVERSITY TO COMPETE WITH MAINLAND COLLEGES; KEEN INTEREST SHOWN BY MEN

The University R. O. T. C. has received and accepted challenges to fire matches from the rifle teams of the R. O. T. C. units of Columbia and Northwestern Universities respectively. Columbia University wishes to hold the match during the week ending March 10, 1923, while the Northwestern desires to fire during the week ending March 31, 1923.

Northwestern University is also challenging University of Montana, Oregon Agricultural College, University of Oregon, State College of Washington, University of Washington, and the University of Wyoming. It is requesting the Hawaii team to designate a date for a return match, which date has not as yet been determined by the local team.

It is generally believed that the firing matches which will be conducted soon will create a great deal of interest among the men of the University R. O. T. C. battalion, and the fact that they are going to compete with men of the large institutions on the mainland will, no doubt, add a new stimulus to those who are now considering to enter the contest.

Following are the rules and regulations which will govern the firing matches.

1. Team—Ten men of the R.O.T.C. in good standing.
2. Targets—N.R.A. gallery targets for 50 feet.
3. Distance—Fifty feet from muzzle of rifle to target.
4. Witness—A commissioned officer on duty at the institution who will certify that he has witnessed the firing, and that all conditions of the match were complied with.
5. Positions—Prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing, ten shots each.
6. Sighting shots—Two for each position.
7. Rifle—Caliber .22 as issued by the Government.
8. Trigger pull—Not less than 3 pounds.
9. Sights—As issued by the Government.
11. Time—Slow fire, one shot per minute.
12. Scoring—Scores to be certified by the commissioned officer witnessing the match. Scores to be exchanged not later than the Saturday of the week in which the match is fired.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO REVISE CONSTITUTION

A committee consisting of Dora Broadbent '23, Robert Hope '25, and Kathrine McLane '25 was appointed by members of the Dramatic club to revise those portions of the constitution dealing with the dropping of members, the relationship between the chairman of the producing committee and the sub-committee, and also his relationship to the coach.

Dora Broadbent was also elected chairman of the committee on the selection of a play for the second semester. What play will be finally selected for presentation in the spring by the club is not yet clear.

THETA ALPHA PHI TO MEET FRIDAY

Theta Alpha Phi, a dramatic fraternity of the University, will meet Friday for the purpose of finding out the financial standing of the society. Dora Broadbent '23 will preside.

'RUSTY' BLAISDELL ELECTED CAPTAIN OF THE "FIGHTING DEANS" FOR 1923

"Rusty" Blaisdell '25 was elected to lead the 1923 "Fighting Deans" at the dinner given by Coach Klum in honor of the football squad at the University club last Friday evening. Rusty is a good player, and the Deans made a fine selection in choosing him as their captain, for he is an ideal man for captain.

When the crowd demanded and shouted "Speech, speech!" Rusty arose and with that same old smile he said: "I feel too glad to speak. Thanks, gang—oh, I cannot speak." He stammered and sank into his chair.

Coach Klum and Assistant Coach Kelly received presents from the team. "There is plenty of talk about good coach, but it is the team that makes the coach," said Klum. He encouraged the players to stay right here in Hawaii, for last of all there is no place like home and no place like Hawaii. He favored the name "The Fighting Deans" which has been applied to the University team, and told the players to live up to that name and fight.

Captain Jacobson then thanked K. C. Leebrick, Y. Goto, T. Beveridge and Lyman, who came out regularly to help the team. The scrubs were praised for their work also.

"One of the happiest and proudest moments in my life was last Christ-day when our men played and defeated the Pomona eleven," said Dr. Dean, who was also one of the speakers at the occasion.

The names of nineteen players who made their football letters, this season were announced. They are "Hootman" Cruickshank, "Jake" Jacobson, "Rosebud" Collins, "Fat" Young, "Russian" Fincke, "Rev." Ault, "Johnny" Morse, "Waikiki Shiek" Ruttman; "Fat" Duvel, "Colby Tarleton," "Duke" Thompson, "Doggie" Wise, "Rusty" Blaisdell "Simmy" McNicoll, "Banty" Given, "Clarissa" Searle, "Snake-eye" Lambert, "Bullseye" Wolters, and "Mac" McLennan.

Those present at the dinner were: Jacobson, Given, Blaisdell, Lambert, Searle, Wise, Morse, Thompson, Copp, Tarleton, Collins, Wedemeyer, McLennan, Wolters, G. Young, Cruickshank, Kapohakimohewa, Fincke, Duvel, McNicoll, Oliviera, Penhallow, Reeves Ruttman, Wicke, Hair, Ault, Wilson, Kinney, Clark, Poepoe Goto, Beveridge, Kelly, Dr. Dean, Al Castle, Dr. Leebrick, and Professor Palmer.

Twenty-five Sign Up For Upper Classmen Smoker Friday Night

Twenty-five students and faculty members had signed for the Upper Class Men Smoker by four o'clock Monday afternoon. Those in charge of the smoker expect that this many more will sign by noon today. The smoker will be held Friday evening at 6.30 o'clock in the University cafeteria. Snappy talks, lively discussion and interesting stunts will characterize the program, which accompanies a fine dinner and good smokes.

Features of the program are an introductory talk by President Dean, a discussion of football policies for next season by Coach Klum, and a discussion of the problems before the student body by Wilson Jacobson. Dr. K. C. Leebrick will talk on the theme, "We are growing up." He will review the progress the University has made in the past, and will point out the possibilities for the future.

Among the matters for discussion are such questions as:

1. Should the students adopt a point system to limit the number of activities in which one may participate?
2. By what means can a better spirit be developed on the campus?
3. Should this University adopt the policy of senior control?
4. Is there room for more musical development on the campus?

Francis Bowers '24, President of the Junior class, is endeavoring to arrange for several musical selections. Those leading the movement hope that this occasion can be made more novel and interesting than any previous smoker.

Following the the names of those who had signed up by four o'clock Monday:

Entertainment Committee Extends Thanks to Those Who Rendered Services

Douglas Ormiston, who had charge of the transportation of the Pomona guests of the University, wishes that his thanks and that of the entertainment committee be extended to the following supporters of the University who had a share in this generosity: Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, Prof. D. L. Crawford, A. M. Ormiston, G. T. Greig, W. E. Wall, Dr. W. A. Schwallie, J. H. Wise, Prof. K. C. Leebrick, J. L. Young, A. B. Given, E. M. Clark, and A. H. Tarleton.

"Not a small part in the entertainment of the Pomona boys was taken by those who so generously loaned their automobiles that the boys might be shown places of interest in and near the city which would otherwise have been reached only with difficulty if at all. Coming at the time of the year that it did, during the holiday season, when everyone was so busily occupied, the generosity of the lenders is doubly appreciated," says Ormiston.

LITERARY SOCIETY WILL MEET FRIDAY

Students, faculty and friends of the University are invited to attend the meeting of the Literary Society in the Math room Friday at 12 o'clock. Mr. Robert Ritchie, who is spending several months here writing the first novel about Hawaii, will be the speaker. He will discuss the principles of writing fiction. Mr. Ritchie requests that no publicity be given his talk in the local newspapers.

GLEE CLUB TO REHEARSE THURSDAY NIGHT

The University Glee Club, which held its first meeting of the new year last Thursday evening, will again meet this Thursday night at seven o'clock in the assembly room of Gartley hall for regular rehearsal. Mrs. Crawford, who is the director of the club, and others of the club hope to see a large turnout.

A trip to Kauai some time in April or May is now being planned by the club. Last year the club made a trip to Maui, giving concerts at various places on the island.

ELECTION TAKES PLACE TODAY ON COUNCIL RULES

ALL STUDENTS AND FACULTY MEMBERS TO VOTE ON. RECOMMENDATIONS

Today in the Information Office between nine and four o'clock will take place the election upon the matter submitted by the Student Council. The election is open to all students and members of the faculty since A.S.U.H. membership is not requisite for voting.

Clifford McGrew, assisted by Toshiyuki Kuninobu and T. Matsuno, all sophomores, is in charge of the election. Other assistants will be appointed to take charge when these cannot be present.

The Student Council asks ratification of the rules concerning the nomination and election of its members, and so forth, and recommends the adoption of amendments charging it with such responsibilities as conducting an educational campaign each year. Following is the matter submitted by the Student Council:

1. The Student Council shall have as one of its duties the conducting of an educational campaign each year for the purpose of educating the incoming freshmen to the Honor system, which campaign shall be conducted through the Frosh Bible, Ka Leo o Hawaii, the assembly meetings or any combination of these or other means that it may be possible to use.

2. The sentences of the Student Council imposed on violators of the Honor rules be published, taking care not to disclose the names or classes of the students affected.

3. The Honor system should be extended to include themes, except in the cases where the instructors do not mind if help is obtained, in which cases the instructors will specify that the pledge need not be affixed to the theme.

4. That the Student Council be empowered to consider cases of dishonesty on the campus, such as where a student takes something which does not belong to him.

The Student Council has found it necessary to make certain rules and perform certain duties not considered at the time this body was created.

1. The chairman shall be a senior who served on the Council during his junior year, which necessitates having at least one senior and one junior on the Council all the time.

2. The officers of the Student Council shall be a chairman and secretary, which officers shall discharge the duties usually connected with their respective offices.

3. The Student Council shall reach a decision by a majority vote.

4. The regular elections of members of the Student Council for the ensuing year shall take place in May. Special elections shall be held whenever vacancies occur in the Council. These elections shall be held separate from, though perhaps at the same time as, the A.S.U.H. elections. Membership in the A.S.U.H. shall not be considered a requisite for voting in the Student Council elections.

5. The Student Council shall make nominations for its members for the ensuing year and for any vacancies which may occur. Additional nominations may be made by submitting to the chairman of the Council a petition bearing the name of a candidate and the signatures of ten students. These nominations shall be printed in Ka Leo o Hawaii at least once, and shall be posted on the bulletin board or other conspicuous place for at least seven days before the election.

6. The Council shall be responsible for and the judge of its own elections.

PROFESSOR CARL ANDREWS CALMLY PHILOSOPHIZES

(By KATHERINE ADAMS)

"The world is not so very much better than it used to be," Prof. Carl Andrews calmly announced.

"Why, these text books of my father's are enough to take the conceit out of anyone," remarked the engineering professor as he loafed through some ancient geometry and algebra books, yellow and dusty with age. The dates varied from 1827 to 1834. The author appeared to be a Prof. Young of the Royal College at Belfast.

"They give the same treatment as modern text books," Prof. Andrews continued, "except that the problems have no practical application. This is probably an indirect result of the old theory of the Greek philosophy that to put their philosophy would be to abuse it."

He paused a moment, then, "But of course if any of my students want some good stiff problems they are welcome to use these books. I don't expect to be overwhelmed with applications, however."

An old magazine clipping fell out of the algebra book. Picking it up, Prof. Andrews observed, "This indicates that the world is not very much worse than it used to be."

This is what he read:

WHY MEN DON'T MARRY

(Clipping from magazine of about 50 years ago.)

"The census statistics show very clearly that more than four-sevenths of the marriages in Massachusetts are among the foreign-born population. Why is it? For the most simple reasons—the foreign-born can afford to get married and the native can not; and this must be so as long as our extravagant modes of life continue.

"We boast of our system of education; we have female high schools, female colleges, female medical schools, and female heavens. Our girls are refined, learned and wise; they can sing, dance, play pianos, paint, talk French and Italian, and all the soft languages, write poetry and love like Venuses. They are ready to be courted at ten, and they could be taken from school and married at fifteen, and divorced at twenty. They can make splendid shows on bridal tours, can coquette and flirt at the watering places, and shine like angels at winter parties. But Heaven be kind to the poor wretch who marries in fashionable circles! What are they at washing floors? Oh, we forget—nobody has bare floors now—how vulgar they would be! What are they at making bread and boiling beef? Why, how thoughtless we are; to be sure they will board or have servants. What are they at mending old clothes? But there we are again; the fashions change so often that nobody has old clothes but the ragman and the paper maker now.

"It is time for mothers to know that the extravagance they encourage is destructive to their children; that all the foolish expenditures making to rush their daughters to matrimony are, instead of answering that end, tending to destroy the institution of marriage altogether."

"Mass is still thriving," the professor concluded. "It is evident that the world isn't going to the bow-wows as fast as some of the pessimists think."

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

Plans for the Y.M.C.A. for large discussion groups are now being made for the University, to begin next semester. The different groups will be led by several professors, and it is hoped that Prof. Palmer will give some talks on Educational Psychology. A discussion group at Nuuanu Church will take up a study of the Bible.

A letter was received from Dwight Rugh recently, one of the University's representatives at the Asilomar "Y" conference, saying that he was having an immensely good time, and expected to be back Tuesday.

Coach Nixon Misses Lemon Soda at New Year's Football Luau

It all happened on the evening when Senator John Wise, the man who was made famous by his son, gave a typical Hawaiian luau at the cafeteria for the Pomona and Hawaii football men just before the Claremont men sailed away.

Prof. K. C. Leebrick, toastmaster of the evening, introduced Dr. Dean, who spoke a few words of welcome to the Pomona men. Captain Ray Wilson spoke next, expressing his appreciation of Hawaii's treatment, and praising the Deans for the fight they put up Christmas day.

Captain Jacobson stated that the Deans had to fight "some" to make that score of 25 to 6.

Coach Nixon was asked to say a few words next. He gave an impression of being a "jolly good fellow" with wit and humor in abundance. After expressing his appreciation for the treatment accorded his men by the University, he said that the University had a wonderful team, and that the University could have defeated the All-Stars, Navy and Army combined together Christmas day when they met the Pomona eleven. He admitted he was surprised the way the Deans played, and praised Otto Klum for producing such a marvellous team. He stated, "It makes me sore that the people here do not realize what a wonderful team the University has."

Turning toward "Banty" Given, his former player, Coach Nixon smiled and said that since men like Banty left the college, Pomona has become a far better college than it used to be. He concluded by saying that they are enjoying this —(well, the coach forgot the Hawaiian word, so he whispered to a lady sitting next to him, who said to him in a low voice "luau")—luau, adding that it would have been a perfect luau if they had some okolehao to drink. As soon as David Kamaka ila Kawailamalama Kapohakimohewa ("Red" Kennedy had failed to pronounce this honorable name of David, and he stated that he would rather memorize the first chapter of Caesar's Gallic Wars than to attempt to remember this name) heard this utterance of Coach Nixon, he seized a bottle and offered it to him, but Coach Nixon did not even look back, and only shouted, "O, keep that lemon soda back."

Coach Klum was true to his modesty and spoke very little. He only wished that the Sagehens would "koku" in making the trip to Claremont possible next Christmas.

Professor Leebrick then introduced "Banty" Given by telling about "Banty" when K.C. used to teach seventh grade in California, and when Banty was a "small rascal rat" in his class. Somehow Banty Given had a red face that night. Probably he blushed when his childhood secrets were revealed by Prof. Leebrick. He stood up. He did not smile. Then he opened his mouth slowly and said: "I have been insulted enough this evening by both K.C. and Coach Nixon, and it is a greater insult to call upon me to speak before you. I disagree with Coach Nixon. I firmly believe that useful men like me are very beneficial to colleges, and I am sure that Pomona has been missing me since I left her."

Mrs. Flashley next gave a regular Hawaiian hula exhibition with grass skirt. Coach Nixon was the first one to move up to one corner of the building so that he could see better. Everybody stood up. Assistant Coach Kelly was rolling his eyeballs. Goto was busily taking notes for the Ka Leo o Hawaii about the evening's entertainment. Dr. Dean misunderstood Goto's pencil and paper. He asked Goto whether he made a fine drawing of the hula girl.

R.O.T.C. NEWS

After much singing of "All we do is sign the payroll," the advanced course students of the University received their commutation money on Friday for the quarter ending Dec. 31, 1922. The advanced course students receive this money in addition to University credit for taking the Senior work R.O.T.C.

Those who received the commutation money are: A. H. Alexander, T. K. Beveridge, C. P. Bourne, F. A. I. Bowers, Adna G. Clark, Jr., N. S. Deverill, W. Fincke, D. M. L. Forbes, I. Katsuki, B. L. Li, R. K. Lum, D. vH. Ormiston, S. K. Poepoe, W. H. Samson and T. R. Waters.

The R.O.T.C. unit of the University has received a letter of greetings and best wishes for the New Year from the Office of the Chief of Infantry, War Department, Washington, D.C. The letter follows:

"Infantrymen: Greetings and best wishes for a New Year of happiness. "The infantry has emerged undaunted from one of the most critical periods of its history. The New Year dawns brightly for us. Conditions are stabilizing and most uncertainties have passed.

"Due to your loyal interest, zeal, and energy, the successes of the Infantry during the past year have been many. The Chief of Infantry views them with pride and looks forward with confidence to your achievements during the coming year.

"He extends heartfelt best wishes for a Happy New Year to the officers, soldiers and families of your organization. Sincerely,

C. S. FARNSWORTH,
Major General U. S. Army, Chief of Infantry."

BIG SEND-OFF GIVEN POMONA MEN AS THEY GO

P-o-m-o-n-a Yey! Pomona! z
They are gone, the men of the Blue and White squad!

With cheers and alohas, with the Hawaiian band playing "Auld Lang Syne" as the big liner Wilhelmina slowly pulled off, the Pomona College football men and other members of the party bade farewell Wednesday afternoon to the students of the University who had come to see them off, and to these islands where they had been visitors for two weeks during which time they played against the Green and White eleven and the All-Star aggregation.

Some 100 University students were at the wharf to give the Claremonters a real Hawaiian send-off. Yell leader Dyfrig Forbes led the "gang" in the cheering, giving hearty yells for the Pomona team, the two coaches, and finally for our own college.

Both Coach Eugene Nixon and Captain Ray Wilson expressed their appreciation for the hospitality and kindness accorded the men of the team during their stay by the University students. The boys had thoroughly enjoyed the visit, and are carrying back with them nothing but favorable impressions of the University and the football players with whom they encountered Christmas day, according to Coach Nixon.

The Pomona people are hoping to have the University of Hawaii visit California next Christmas season and play a game with the Sagehens again. They feel that they can put up a better fight then.

Members of the Pomona party which left for home on the Wilhelmina are: Coaches Eugene Nixon and Colvin Heath, Captain Ray Wilson, E. W. Claremont, Jos. Peterson, Geo. Stone, Herbert Mooney, Lewis Leezer, Eugene Kennedy, William Houghton, Roland Clark, Macy Chambers, Leslie Baynham, Glenn Doughty, Chas. Daggs, Braven Dyer and Brainerd Dyer.

George W. Savage, special correspondent with the team, Thompson, Needham, Taylor, and Leighton, students from Pomona College, who came to see their team play, also left with the team.

Mrs. Pollock, wife of Prof. Pollock of the botany department, has taken the position of Miss Catherine Hall, as supervisor of the seventh grade at the Territorial Normal Training School. Miss Hall was recently killed in an automobile accident.

Want to Sleep in Class Without Being Caught? See "Bill"—He Knows

(By REBECCA McVEAGH)

Is it safe to sleep in class?

If you wish to know the honest truth, ask William Wilson '23. He will probably tell you that it is safe if you can sleep with at least one ear cocked in such a way as to catch the sound of the professor's voice as he calls up on you to recite—otherwise beware!

It was in Civil Engineering 9 that Wilson learned his lesson. Prof. Keller had required all the students to do some reading and to report upon it in class. At the close of the student's report the class was to ask him questions.

Ah Sum Wong '24, who had been giving his report, was still standing and waiting for questions. Suddenly Wilson jumped to his feet and began talking.

Prof. Keller at first thought that Wilson was preparing the way for some weighty question which he was going to spring on Wong. But on and on flowed the stream of eloquence.

Then light dawned for Prof. Keller, and he knew that Wilson was giving his report.

When Wilson had finished, Prof. Keller, turning to Wong, said, "Please finish your report."

Wilson, who had been asleep, had awakened with a start thinking his report had been called for, and had proceeded to give it.

17 Qualify as Marksmen and Sharpshooters

Nine cadets have qualified as sharpshooters and eight as marksmen out of the 30 men who turned out for firing on Punchbowl range Firing Course "B" during Christmas vacation, according to a report issued by Captain E. A. Rudelius, Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the University.

In order to qualify as a sharpshooter, a person is required to make at least 195 points, and for marksmen, at least 175 points. Following are the cadets of the University R. O. T. C. whose names appear on the list of sharpshooters and marksmen:

EXTENSION SERVICE

"The Culture of Vegetables in Hawaii," by Prof. F. G. Krauss, of the agronomy department, and published by the Extension Service department of the University, is now ready for distribution.

During the Christmas and New Year holidays, Dr. K. C. Leebrick spent three days on Maui, where he addressed the teachers convention on the question of Dual Citizenship, and the American and Japanese attitude toward law.

In the interest of the Hawaiian Historical Commission, Dr. Leebrick and Mr. Kuykendall left for Kauai, on Monday, Jan. 8. They will make a survey of the island for historical places where they are recommending preservation. At Lihue, a meeting of the Kauai Historical Society will be called, and Dr. Leebrick will also give extension lectures on current events.

The commissioners of the Hawaiian Historical Commission are: Ex-Gov. Geo. Carter, Prof. K. C. Leebrick and Mrs. A. P. Taylor. Mr. Kuykendall is the executive secretary.

Mrs. Kuykendall will accompany Mr. Kuykendall.

Pomona Students Learn Hawaii Has No Class Under Thatched Roof

"Classes at University of Hawaii are not held under thatched roofs"—reads a headline of one of the stories which appear in a recent issue of the Student Life, the Pomona College paper, the copy of which arrived some time ago.

The article, written by a Lavinia Larson, aims to enlighten some of the Pomona people who think that "classes at the University are held under thatched roofs" and that Hawaii is nothing but a "land of pineapples, cocoanut palms, grass kimonos and hula hula girls," judging from the content of the article. Evidently this was written before the Pomona team reached Honolulu. The story in the Student Life referred to is, in part, as follows:

"And now that Chester Gump has earned his pony, and the long-heralded Honolulu rally has come off, it behooves those who are in the know to brush up on information about the University of Hawaii. What kind of people will our team meet there? Will they be pitted against eleven bushy-headed chocolate specials, outfitted in the conventional and far-famed Hawaiian shredded wheat? Will they be quartered in little palm leaf huts with roofs as shaggy as a 'bob' that needs trimming? Will they be given cocoanuts and pineapples to feed upon? It is for the purpose of settling all such puzzling questions that might occur to the mind of any anxious son or daughter of Pomona that the following information is offered:

"English, and not the native Hawaiian, as some might suppose, is spoken in all the classes, for English is the popular language of the islands. 'Ka Leo o Hawaii,' a school paper established this year, is published in English, and but for the name could be taken for any American college paper. Pomona people who have seen copies of the paper have shown some surprise at the large number of American names among the students. This seeming peculiarity is explicable on the ground that many of the Hawaiians, having intermarried with the Americans, give to their children American names.

"But enough of facts. The only one that matters is that our team has left for Honolulu, and our only thought now is, 'Sugargrowers, treat 'em sweet'."

WOMEN'S DORMITORY NEWS

The "family" at the Women's Dormitory spent a very quiet vacation. Miss Emma Davis and Lucy Searle were the only ones at the dormitory. Bernice Corell went to her home on Maui, returning Thursday. Ella Nora Ryan came back from the volcano Saturday.

Prof. Lee Visits Hilo But Not for Honeymoon

Three days after Prof. C. S. Lee, instructor of Chinese, was married to Miss C. Wong, the couple left for the Crescent City. "I did not go for my honeymoon but to give extension lectures, he emphatically said.

Prof. Lee went to Hilo at the invitation of the United Chinese Society. There, he spoke on the Relations between America and China. Because of the Christmas and New Year holidays, when people are heavily engaged with social affairs, Prof. Lee did not expect much of a gathering, but was overwhelmed, he said, to meet many prominent business and professional men of East Hawaii among his unexpected large audience.

Mrs. Lee also addressed a Chinese audience while there, speaking on the conditions in China and the opportunities for the Hawaiian-born girls. She is a graduate of the Teachers' College in Canton and the Bible Institute in Los Angeles, and was also a special student at the University of California for some time. She is now connected with the Beretania Mission.

The thing that impressed him most during his stay in Hilo, Prof. Lee said, was the hospitality of the people. "They treated us royally like prince and princess," he stated. They visited several points of interest in and about Hilo and Christmas Day greeted them on the rim of the Kilauea crater. Madame Pele in her wrath of anger afforded a most spectacular scene, which Prof. Lee admits is the most wonderful sight he has yet seen.

Advertising the University

"It will advertise the University," is the argument unthinkingly used to advance every cause. Unfortunately, the argument itself is not a magic wand that will accomplish anything. Why should we want to advertise the University any way?

Do we want to let people know that in Manoa Valley stands a certain institution named the University of Hawaii? Do we want to convince prospective students that this University is the best they can possibly attend? Or is this argument for advertising steretyed like the answer that "gravity makes bodies fall to the earth?"

At all events, we need to remember that one essential of a university is an alert, active, student body. Without this we cannot attract new students. Without this, any publicity would simply advertise our lack of one essential. Without this we cannot hope to rise above parrot-like arguments and answers.

We have four perfectly good class organizations. The seniors did have a picnic. The juniors did wonder who intimated that they might plant a few trees. Why not make our classes more active?

What we get out of college life depends directly upon what we put in. Let us put in all we have. Devoting ourselves to her development, is the best way to advertise the University. Also, this is the way for us to enjoy most our four years at college.

Announcement of Upper Classmen Smoker

Today is your last chance to sign for the Upper Classmen Smoker. Do not fail to do so.

The smoker will be held Friday evening at 6:30 in the University cafeteria. Plates are one dollar apiece. Miss Hoe states that dormitory men will not need to pay to attend the smoker, as she will count this in place of their dinner. She must be notified in time to do this.

Sign up by noon today.

The program is going to be informal but interesting. If you have anything to say, you may do so. If not, you may listen.

Smokes will be abundant and of fine quality, though you are not obliged to smoke if you do not want to.

Here is the menu Miss Hoe promises:

- Olives
- Stuffed Roast Veal, Guava Jelly,
Brown Gravy.
- Mashed Potatoes, Cream of Lima Beans.
- Shrimp Salad.
- University of Hawaii Special.
- Cocoanut Cake.
- Coffee.
- Iced Tea.
- Salted Nuts

Recognition

A professor of the University of Hawaii, very popular and held in high regard among the students, once expressed dislike for a certain eminent leader in Honolulu. The cause was the remarkable ability of the leader, when he wanted something, to recognize the professor, and his equally remarkable inability to recognize him at other times.

Recognition invariably builds friendship. Those who make a practice of greeting their fellow students whenever and wherever they meet them universally are highly esteemd. Those who do not, subject themselves to misunderstanding and ill feeling.

Occasionally we hear murmurs that some students do not recognize their colleagues. We believe that friendship should be the keynote in the whole atmosphere of this University.

For this reason we earnestly hope that Hawaii's most hallowed tradition will be that one will remember his fellow-students at all times and in all places.

K.C.—But who's going to prevent the parents from picking out their son's wife for him?

Brilliant Stude—Couldn't the Humane Society help out?

He: Coffee always keeps me awake.
She: Why don't you have some?

Mother: Johnny, don't run so fast around the house. You'll fall and hurt yourself.

Johnny: If I don't run fast it'll hurt anyway. Dad's chasing me.

She: Do you like to dance?
He: Not particularly.
She: Oh, well, no one dances that way nowadays.

Daughter (at end of a lengthy musical composition): Isn't it too bad, Dad; the man who wrote this piece died two weeks ago.

Father: Have they found the murderer?

Irate Colonel: Take that hat off immediately, sir!

Deaf and short sighted Luncher: Why, are they playing the National Anthem?

Irate Colonel: No, you idiot, it's my hat.

Louvain Library

Hunter College, with a pledge of $2,500, is the first institution of higher education in the United States to announce a contribution to the campaign for completion of the $1,000,000 fund for restoration of Louvain Library.

New York State College, Albany, also has made a pledge to the fund: $1,000 for one of the fifty bells which will form the carillon in the tower of the restored library.

Renewal of the campaign for America's war memorial in Belgium was begun in New York State Dec. 3 last. Since that date both the College of the City of New York and New York University have been making canvasses for the fund which have not yet been completed.

The campaign in New York extends not only into the universities and colleges, but into all the public schools of the State. An estimate made from reports already received indicates the public schools of New York City alone will contribute $25,000 toward restoring the famous library.

Universities and colleges in other states will participate in the campaign during the early months of 1923.

The national committee is headed by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and has as members many of the best known educators of the United States.
